

PluggedOut Blog Theme Template Guide

This diagram shows the layout of the theme files. In general terms, items and separators are added together in a chain, and then inserted into the corresponding section template - the section is then inserted into the page.

Each template file will have specially coded html comments (such as <!--body-->) that get replaced by data as the templates are put together.

